She Tells Why She Kept Little Lenn Me Hugh, and Denies that She Bent Her. Referee Nealis's room in the Court House was crowded yesterday with people who are in-terested in the fate of 6-year-old Lena McHugh. Lena, who looks like a boy, was there with Mrs. Mole, the woman who is accused of mai-treating ber. Mrs. Mole had brought Mrs. Mary Jane Griffiths. Mrs. Mary Connelly. and Mrs. Mary Maddocks, all of them tenants in 1,382 Ninth avenue, the house where it is al-leged that the child was ill used, to testify that they did not know anything about the case. They got in that much quickly and were ex-

Little Lena is the granddaughter of Mrs. Buppert, mother of Jacob Ruppert, the brewer. Lona's mother died in July, after putting Lena in the care of Mrs. Mole. Mrs. Strassburg, a sister of Lena's mother, furnished clothing for the child, and the grandmother helped toward the child, and the grandmother helped toward her maintenance, and they were all satisfied until stories reached them about the child's fil treatment. The grandmother sent for Lena, and Mrs. Mole refused to give her up. The proceedings are on a writ to show cause why ahe should not do so. The allegations are that Mrs. Mole beat Lena with a stick of firewood for being tardy on an errand; that she was insufficiently clothed, and obliged to carry coal from the celiar up five flights of stairs, and that inhuman punishments were inflicted upon her. Upon one occasion it was said that Mrs. Mole plunged the sharp point of a pair of soissors into Lena's tongue as a punishment for lying. It was also said that Mrs. Mole gagged her with a piece of wood, struck her when she was singing of her dead mother, and upon one occasion sent her out to bog dressed in a suit of hop's clothing.

was singing of her dead mother, and upon one occasion sent her out to bog dressed in a suit of boy's clothing.

I Mrs. Mole gave her side of the story yesterday. I had not been on good terms with Lena's mother for more than a year before her death. The last time I saw her before she gave Lena to me was at a time when I applied to my church for help for her. On June 18 Mrs. Mc-Hugh sent for me. When I went in she said: When we parted it was as bad friends. I don't want to leave an enemy behind me. They are going to send me to a hospital. I want you to pack my trunk, and I want you to take Lena and bring her up the same as if she was your own. Don't give her up to any one, not even to my mother. took Lena, and the last time I saw her

"I took Lena, and the last time I saw her mother, just before she was sent to the Fresbyterian Hospital, she told the grandmother in German that I was to have Lena. I never beat the child except as I would one of my own. I put her across my knee and spanked her."

She burst out laughing when she was asked about the begging, and said that there were some boy's clothes in her rag bag which Lena put on for fun, going to the doors of the tenants and asking for pennies. She looked so much like a boy that they did not recognize her. Mrs. Mole thought the whole trouble was the result of a quarrel, which she had with Mrs. Fullerton was the one who gave the first information, regarding the child's ill treatment. "Mrs. Fullerton and I had some words," said Mrs. Mole, "because I would not let my Annie or little Lena run of errands for her, and we have been bad friends ever since."

WANTS ALL THE THEATRE MONEY The House of Refuge Around Again in Spite

The directors of the House of Refuge, through Vice-President Cram, applied to the Board of Estimate yesterday for the appropriation of the entire fund derived from theatre licenses for the benefit of that institution. The theatres had long protested against being taxed to reform juvenile delinquents, and last year this fund, amounting to over $21,700, was divided, under a special act of the Legislature, Fund. Mr. Cram undertook to argue that, as the House of Refuge has had the benefit of the the House of Refuge has had the benefit of the entire fund for about fifty years up to last year, the same disposition of the fund should be continued. He argued that the Board had no right to give these funds to private charities.

Mayor Hewitt—You are in error, Mr. Cram. The law explicitly gives the Board the power to appropriate these funds to certain benevolent institutions. It is left to our discretion, Mr. Cram—Well, you would certainly not give it to an institution to support indigent lawyers.

Mr. Cram—Well, you would certainly not give it to an institution to support indigent lawyers.

Mayor Hewitt—It seems to methat the actors have a claim on this fund. They pay it. They have not committed crime, and I do not see that the boys in your institution have any prior claim because they are criminals.

Mr. Cram—We have 200 boys now idle owing to the operation of the new law which prevents our making contracts for labor. We must put these boys to work. We want $15,000 to provide the necessary machinery. When the Legislature meets we can get all the money we want; but meanwhile we are in great need of the money. We are only asking for what we have had for fifty years.

Mayor Hewitt—When I was a Governor of the New York Hospital we made that argument when an appropriation was refused us, and we were told that the law gave it to us and that the law could take it away. I thought that was a good argument. I think so now. Yours is a State institution, dependent upon the State for support. It is not a city institution, and the city has not appropriated money directly for it for many years.

Mr. Cram—Nearly all our immates are from the city, and the city owns the property.

Mayor Hewitt—The city pays its full share in the taxes levied by the State. As to this Actors' Fund, I think it is justly entitled to part of the money paid for the attrical licenses, and I shall vote that way.

The final disposition of the matter was post-poned.

BOSY ANNIE OF BODYKE.

The Irlah Girl who scalded the Builiffs has Come to America to Live, e-cheeked Irish lassie with a silver edal from Mrs. Michael Davitt pinned to her dress, to commemorate her pluck, arrived at Castle Garden yesterday and left last night to join her relatives in Elmira. She was 19-yearold Annio Macnamara, the young girl of bid Annie machamara, the young girl of Bodyke, county Clare, who in June last so barricaded the home of her parents that for forty-eight hours the Sheriffs, acting in the interest of Col. O'Callahan, on whose land the Machamara homestead was, could not evict the Machamaras. Annie not only barricaded their little home, but made things lively for the Sheriffs by emptying buckets of hot water over them.

The Equitable Gas Company's New Stock. The Equitable Gas Light Company's stockiders decided yesterday to increase the capital stock from $3,000,000 to $4,000,000. "The object of the increased capitalization," said ebject of the increased capitalization," said one of the stockholders, "is to increase our plant. We are making 0.000,000 feet of gas daily now, and we are just able to meet the demands of our customers during the busy times in the winter. We have 100 miles of mains in the streets now, and propose to build thirty or forty miles more on the west side of the city, up town and down." The new stock will not be issued until the new plant is completed. Options for the new stock will be issued to the stockholders in the proportion of one-third of their present holdings.

Up and Up Goes Copper.

Copper on the Metal Exchange had an other rise yesterday, in sympathy with a further advance of £2 a ton in London. WORKING GIRLS IN PERIL Taken Bown From the Roof of a Burning Building by the Firemen.

Fire was discovered about 8 o'clock-ye terday afternoon in the four-story brick build-ing in Park avenue and Hall street, Brooklyn. on the line of the elevated railroad, occupied by the Consolidated Electric Light Company. of which Henry C. Davis is President. There are no electric dynamos in the building, but all kinds of lamps and fixtures used in electric lighting have been manufactured on the prem ises for a couple of years, and in this more than 100 men, women, girls, and boys were employed. They had an exciting scrammore than 100 men, women, girls, and boys were employed. They had an exciting scramble to save their lives, and many of them whose escape was cut off had to be taken from the roof and top windows by the firemen and police. The fire broke out in the pump room on the third floor, and was caused, as supposed, by the explosion of a barrel of some inflammable liquid used in polishing the lamps. The floors, walls, and ceiling were saturated with oils and other inflammable materials, and the fire spread rapidly. A dozen or more persons, who were at work on the fourth floor, were shut in by the blinding smoke. The girls on the lower floors were more or less panic-stricken, and some of them had to be dragged from the building by the police. When the fire was a tits height, and when the firemen believed that all persons had been rescued, there was a report that three or four girls were missing, and there were startling rumors that they had been seen to fall back into the flames while screaming for help at the fourth-story windows. No corroboration of these reports could be obtained, and a careful examination of the premises, after the fire was extinguished, tailed to reveal any dead bodies. It is confidently believed that no one perished. The second, third, and fourth floors were deluged with water.

The total less on the building and machinery amounts to from $20,000 to $30,000. The insurance is $30,000. Arrangements were already in progress to move the entire plant to the new factory in Twenty-third street in this city. The company also owns factories in Pittsburgh and Lynn.

The city will have to pay nearly $22,000 for the expenses attendant upon the attempt by layor Cooper to remove Police Commissioners Mayor Cooper to remove Police Commissioners Sidney P. Nichols and William F. Smith. The Board of Estimate and Apportionment resterday appropriated the following sums to pay the expenses of the contestants, who were finally ousted by the Court of Appeals: Charles F. McLean. $11,401.04: John R. Voorhis, $6,342; Mary E. Morrison, widow of James E. Morrison. $3,900.
